REMARKS:
Literature table set up for each meeting, outside the lounge. Some literature items usually picked up. This is usually the initial contact before or during the meeting, to which they are always invited, late or not. In fact the formal presentation is usually delayed until one or more contacts come into the lounge and sit down. The presentation is then tailored to the time available. This varies from 15 minutes to 2 hours.

In case of nil attendees, Unit business, current events, and such are dealt with.

REMARKS:

A literature table is set up and manned outside the lounge for each meeting. Casual passers-by frequently stop and pick-up free literature and talk to the member or members at the table. Although such encounters are not included as visitors to the meeting, it is a worthwhile contact with the public. Occasionally as sale of literature is made. Most attendees at the lecture are initially contacted at the literature table.

At each of the above meetings at least one passer-by was contacted, so the meeting set-up is seldom an exercise in futility. Such literature table contacts are not tallied in any way.

When no visitors turn up for the lecture, the members present participate in an informal 'business' meeting. Even when there is a lecture the Tuesday evening encounter with members is valuable as an opportunity for 'up-date', and routine business of the Unit.

REMARKS: The titled paper was prepared by W. Fryers and John Gregory, for presentation to the 2nd International Forum of the Human Side of Energy, sponsored by the Faculty of Extension of the University of Alberta, 16-19 Aug 81. There were many concurrent presentations. We shared a a time-slot with another speaker and were accorded only 20 minutes, so the speaker (W.Fryers) made an informal presentation using Vu-graph slides. About 50 copies of the prepared text were made available by the Conference secretariat and all were taken up, at the central distribution room. The audience of 20 included 3 members, 2 speakers, 1 chairman, a Channel 10 camera man, 1 child, and possibly a dozen general public. Questions were few in the time allowed. Literature picked up free included 6 T.T.S.D.s, 15 triplets of Briefs, and 6 back issues of Technocracy Digest. W. Fryers attended the Plenary Session the following day and contributed some remarks urging more attention to the larger picture of Technocracy and less to local and temporary aspects. We assessed it to be, in total, a worthwhile effort, ~~but too much work to warrant follow-up in this direction.~~ Our short Abstract will be included in the 'Proceedings' and distributed to all delegates.

REMARKS:

Regular Tuesday evening public meetings cancelled for summer, incl. 30 June.

Vu-graph slides (used with overhead projector) are used to illustrate all public lectures.

The 2 visitors on 23 June were both from the Edmonton Journal. They asked a few questions but did not conduct an inquiry in depth. No definite results.

REMARKS:

8 Apr 81: Last day of classes for Political Science Course No. 295 on Political Attitudes & Ideologies. Present were 24 students, 1 professor, plus Jack Gregory and Walt Fryers. Gregory gave a 30 minute talk on Technocracy, using VU-Graph slides; Then 10-15 minutes of questions. Literature picked up included 4 TTSD's, 2 Ecology's; 2 Hydrology's; and 3 triplets of Briefs. Attention and interest were excellent.
